Theorious, the decision to destroy the road and the Tarnab dam was taken by the Pakistani military and government in the mid-80s. The dam was built to supply water to the city of Tarnab and to generate electricity. However, the road was built to connect the city to the rest of Pakistan, which was then under military dictatorship. The decision was taken to avoid any future rebellion or resistance from the local population.

The road and dam were both destroyed to ensure that no future government would be able to use them for any other purpose. The Pakistani military and government believed that by destroying these facilities, they would prevent any future rebellion or resistance from the local population.

In a lit-taf-tot move, China orders US to close consulate in Chengdu

BEIJING, JUL 24: China on Friday ordered the US to close down its consulate in the southwestern city of Chengdu in the latest in a series of tit-for-tat measures to punish Beijing for shutting the Chinese mission in Houston, Texas, which China already has taken.

A statement by the Chinese foreign ministry said the US embassy there had accused the Chinese mission in Houston of violating the Vienna Convention for Consular Relations and the rules of the consulate in violation of international laws and regulations, and had threatened to expel the director of the consulate. The statement said that, after the US consulate in Houston was shut down, China had the right to take countermeasures, and would shut down the US consulate in San Francisco, and that China had the right to take such countermeasures.

Goldman Sachs has 3.9B$ settlement with Malaysia over 1MDB

NEW YORK, JUL 24: US-based Goldman Sachs has reached a $3.9B settlement with the Malaysian government over two so-called 1MDB-linked deals. The $3.9B figure, which includes $2.5B in fines, was reached after months of negotiations, according to people familiar with the matter.

“Having developed a diplomatic relationship with the US, Goldman Sachs is an important financial institution, and it has the role of 'building China-US ties',” Wang said.

NEW YORK, JUL 24: US-based Goldman Sachs has reached a $3.9B settlement with the Malaysian government over the two so-called 1MDB-linked deals, according to people familiar with the matter.

DAUGHTERS FINALLY WON THE BATTLE: REKHA MAHajan

JAMMU, JUL 24:

On the occasion of India’s 72nd Independence Day, Prime Minister Narendra Modi fulfilled a dream of millions of daughters who wear the uniform of our defence forces by the Centre.

Welcoming the significant decision, Rekha Mahajan said that women officers who have been selected through the Short Service Commission in our defence forces will now have the options to take up permanent or temporary work. She described this as “a gift” to the country and also to the families of the real soldiers who have made all efforts to keep the country safe.

She also said that there will be no change concerning the rights and privileges of those who have already served in the armed forces. The court also said Permanent Commission will be available to all women officers regardless of their years of service. She further said that women officers will be able to play larger roles in various departments including Permanent Commission (PC) for women in the armed forces by the Centre.

DHARKA, JUL 24: Bangladesh's all-rounder Shakib Al Hasan was banned by the International Cricket Council (ICC) for a two-year period after he was found guilty of failing to report approach by boxers, including Tokyo Olympic-bound Vikas Krishan and Shiva Thapa, to the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) for breach of its anti-corruption code of conduct.

"If you have to come, you just can't fly to the people and pretend different things. Whatever happens, the people have happened. People are bound to make mistakes. You will not be 100%. The important thing is how well you can compensate from those mistakes, but in this two-year period, people will not be watching them if they never take those previous things," Shakib said.

In this two-year period, Shakib will be allowed to sell 10% percent of any seats available at any small matches taking place in Bangladesh or any big ones taken place during the Twenty20 Blast or the BPL. Shakib will also be allowed to sell 10% percent of any seats available at any small matches taking place in Bangladesh or any big ones taken place during the Twenty20 Blast or the BPL.
